

PROFILES:
WW MBA in Education Leadership Fellows
Wisconsin, 2016

Patrick Bader

Seventh Grade Team Facilitator, Science Teacher, Carmen Middle School of Science and Technology – Northwest Campus.

B.A., U.S. history, University of Illinois at Chicago

M.Ed., curriculum and instruction, University of Washington

informer second and third grade teacher, Rocketship Education; resident teacher, Washington's temperate rainforest; environmental educator, Urban Ecology Center; former corps member, Teach for America; program manager, AmeriCorps.

Jennifer Bowers

Mathematics Curriculum Specialist, Parkview School District

B.A., elementary education, University of Wisconsin-Whitewater

M.A., curriculum and instruction, National Louis University

Former elementary teacher, Parkview School District; mentor and coach, math instruction best practices.

Katie Brown

Biology, foundations of chemistry, and physics teacher, Whitefish Bay High School

B.S., biology and sociology, University of Wisconsin – Madison

Teacher licensure, Edgewood College

Collaboration coach, science department; future AP biology teacher; volunteer, Peace Corps, teaching high school life science and physical science and training new corps members in Namibia.

Eric Ebert

Political science, economics, and history, Sussex Hamilton High School

B.S., political science, history, and social studies education, University of Wisconsin – Madison

M.S., educational psychology, University of Wisconsin – Madison

Certified AP Consultant, instructor, one-day and week-long summer institutes throughout the country; AP exam grader and test item writer, AP Government; football coach.

Joseph Gallagher

Student Support Coordinator and founding school leader, Milwaukee Excellence Charter School

B.B.A., entrepreneurship, environmental studies, and dance, University of Wisconsin – Madison

M.A., urban special education, Cardinal Strich University

Former special education teacher, Milwaukee Public Schools; Former corps member, Teach for America; Award recognition, special education, Council for Exceptional Children.

Mark Grunske

Technology Focused Instructional Coach, Delavan-Darien School District

B.S., secondary education and teaching, University of Wisconsin – Madison

M.A., National Louis University

Former AP World History teacher, Waukesha School District; technology focused curriculum builder; teacher mentor and coach.

Samantha Haas

Director of Curriculum and Instruction for Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math, Carmen High School of Science and Technology's South Campus

B.A., chemistry, B.S., environmental science, Drake University

M.Ed., Marquette University

Chemistry teacher; fellow, National Academy of Advanced Teacher Education; coach, cross country and track.

Kiesha Johnnies

Founding Principal, HOPE Christian School: Caritas

B.A., social welfare, University of Wisconsin – Madison

Fellow, RELAY Graduate School of Education: National Principal Academy Fellowship Program; former volunteer, AmeriCorps; former corps member, Teach for America Milwaukee; former kindergarten teacher; training project leader and founding senior corps member, City Year Milwaukee.

Alejandra Krolick

Spanish Teacher, Franklin High School

B.S., education, University of Wisconsin – Whitewater

Exchange program coordinator for student cultural immersion experiences, Franklin High School's sister school in Madrid, Spain; world language department coordinator.

William Kujawa

Mathematics teacher and department chair, Brookfield East High School

B.S., education, University of Wisconsin Oshkosh

M.S., educational psychology, University of Wisconsin – Milwaukee

Former mathematics teacher, Cudahy High School; Kohl Fellow, 2014; mathematics education best practices presenter, various state and national conferences.

Rebecca (Becky) Owens

School Leadership Coach, Schools That Can Milwaukee

B.A., Spanish, University of Wisconsin – Madison

M.S., teaching, Pace University

Certified beginning teacher support and assessment coach, Rach Institute for School Leadership; manager, teacher leadership development, Teach for America; former elementary school teacher, NYC Department of Education, Achievement First, and Rocketship Education; former corps member, Teach for America.

Teresa Reilly

Principal, St. Anthony School, upper elementary campus

B.A., elementary education, St. Norbert College

M.A., educational leadership, Alverno College

Former middle school teacher, instructional coach and assistant principal; licensed principal and director of instruction; recipient, Burke Fellowship award.

Kristin Rockwell

Academic Seminar Teacher, Baraboo High School

B.S., English education, University of Wisconsin – La Crosse

M.A., cross-categorical special education, Edgewood College

Special needs teacher, Chileda Institute in La Crosse; former special education teacher, Baraboo school district; district PBIS external coach, supports teachers and school buildings with their PBIS initiatives. recipient, Herb Kohl Fellowship, 2015.

Ryan Samz

Principal at HOPE Christian School – Semper

B.A., history and criminological theory/law studies, Marquette University

B.A., education, The New Teacher Project

Former dean of instruction, HOPE Christian Schools; former assistant principal, Rocketship Education; former corps member, Teach for America, greater New Orleans; middle school science and social studies teacher, KIPP charter school network.

Christopher Sover

Biology and AP Biology Teacher, Grade Level Lead, Carmen High School of Science and Technology

B.S., biology, University of Wisconsin – Madison

M.S., educational leadership, Marquette University

Assistant coach, cross country and track and field teams; former corps member, Teach for America; volunteer biology teacher, graduate university service learning program; volunteer English teacher, Cusco, Peru; former president, Wisconsin Alumni Student Board.

Ben Westphal

Science teacher, department chair, instructional coach, Brookfield East High School

B.S., secondary education – biology, University of Wisconsin – Madison

M.Ed., Aurora University

Former science teacher, Pewaukee High School.